ANNUAL MEETING

methods not founded on good business principles. No one criticises the banker because he refuses to loan his goods except on approved security; nor the manufacture for declining to permit his product to be taken from the factory until assured of proper returns therefor; nor the retailor for conducting a cash store. We submit that the physician is an indispensable spoke in the wheel of industrial progress, and to him should be accorded privileges in proportion to the burdens he bears.

In keeping with the above ideas, we desire to announce the following resolutions:

1st—Statements of accounts for physicians' services shall be sent monthy. There should be no hardship imposed hereby, as factories, mines, etc. pay semi-monthly; and farmers can have no reason to complain of this requirement when they remember the splendid and cash prices which we pay for their products.

2nd—Fees for confinement cases shall be invariably cash. This resolution is so manifestly fair as to need no discussion.

3rd—We shall in no case, our own families excepted, buy antitoxine for administration in diphtheria. It should not be necessary to assert this determination, since if the patient is utterly unable to purchase same, the Board of Health will furnish it; and if it is simply a case of "not prepared to pay" plainly one should be ashamed to ask the doctor to supply both the service and the serum on trust.

4th—Double the day charge shall be made for night service. This is the class of business that wears out the Doctor and unfits him for the duties of the following day. We offer no apologies for this demand

5th—Factories very properly call upon us to care for their injured. The zeal and energy with which they insist upon the best surgical service for their employees is really very commendable—but Oh, you Bill! It is only just to state that some of these plants cheerfully take care of such obligations. We refer, however, to those other several institutions who either pay no heed whatever to our statements, or reply in a manner of which the following is a verbatim copy, except that blanks are substituted for items and names:

"We have your statement covering treatment in the accident of Mr. —— on —— amounting to $——. This apparently covers more than First Aid treatment which is all that our Company arranges to take care of. If you will, therefore, kindly make out statement covering First Aid treatment only and mail it to Mr. —— adjuster, in care of the Aetna Life Insurance Co., Chicago, Ill., the amount will be promptly remitted to you.

"We enclose herewith addressed envelope for your use.

Very truly yours
(Signed) —— Company."

The moment a surgeon answers a call, he has assumed responsibility for proper attention. Public opinion requires and the laws of Ohio make mandatory the exercise of ordinary skill [illegible] Ohio-gence in treatment. The Company should pay the bill and congratulate itself that it is their privilege to aid unfortunate employees. Think of it! A surgeon cares for an injured workman until recovered, and the Company out of the fullness of its heart graciously gives the Doctor—actually gives him—an addressed envelope in which to forward to the Insurance Company a charge for "First Aid" treatment. This would be ridiculously funny if it were not so serious in its consequence. Most manufacturers are, however, gentlemen with a desire to be fair. We, therefore, make no demand on this item, resting secure in the belief that the management of trustworthy institutions will at once set about devising better methods in this department now that their attention has been called to the absolutely unjust imposition in the prevailing arrangement.

INSURGENCY IN PENNSYLVANIA

Is Pennsylvania ever to become fighting ground for the progressives? Those who have watched the smooth working of the wonderful political machine built and handed down to Penrose, Oliver et al. by that master hand of political manipulation, Matt Quay, will be inclined to answer no.

No political organization superior to it has ever been reared. There will be many to say that none its equal has ever been built in this country. The Gorman machine in Maryland, the Hanna machine in Ohio, the Platt machine in New York, all had their day and crumbled under repeated assaults from within and without.

But the Quay machine, founded almost a generation ago, has beaten down and steam rollered opposition with the utmost ease and without a break. Years ago Penrose was taken into the inner organization for the deliberate and express purpose of perpetuating the Quay political oligarchy in the Keystone state.

No European royal house ever transmitted its power from generation to generation more directly than Quay passed his toga and scepter on to Penrose. And until recently Penrose has kept the faith and maintained his authority unquestioned. But the rumbling of the coming storm has been heard in Pennsylvania for several years.

Factional revolts among Republicans have taxed Penrose's ability to the utmost during the last four years. Socialism has made tremendous gains in Pennsylvania cities in the last two years. The recent November election showed positive proof that the old Quay machine is not invincible.

Insurgency is rampant throughout Pennsylvania. Philadelphia, "corrupt and contented," defeated Penrose's machine candidate for mayor, although to do so meant the overturning of a Republican majority of 100,000. Keystone and Democratic tickets have actually won or come uncomfortably near winning in a number of municipalities and counties in different parts of the state.

There is widespread dissatisfaction with the liquor laws of the state, with the laws affecting conditions and those governing municipalities. There is agitation and unrest everywhere. Penrose and his lieutenants are doing all within their power to hold their ranks intact, but they themselves are shrewd enough politicians to realize that they face an uncontrollable revolt.

It is a hopeful sign for the rest of the country. Pennsylvania has long been the bulwark of the protected interests, of special privilege and monopoly. For years the people have longed for the outbreak of a political revolution, but the forces of pillage and privilege have been too strong for them. Today their hour of deliverance seems nearer than ever before.

MILLIONS FOR PENSIONS

Thirty-five years ago James A. Garfield, then a member of the house of representatives, later President of the United States apologized for a pension bill carrying $28,533,000, and declared that the maximum had been reached.

"My idea is," said Mr. Garfield on that occasion, "that we have reached and perhaps passed the summit of appropriations for this object, and that the time must necessarily come when we shall pass the climax and begin to go downward. I suppose we have already passed the maximum." And yet in the face of that unquestionably sincere prediction, made by a man who was familiar with the sentiment of the country at the time, as well as with the condition and prospects of the government's finances, the appropriation for pensions for the current fiscal year is $153,688,000 while the Democratic house of representatives just last week passed a service pension measure which if enacted into a law—and its chance of passage by the senate is considered to be excellent—will add $75,000,000 a year to the expenditure for this purpose.

Mr. Garfield wasn't alone in his belief, thirty-five years ago when the entire appropriation for pensions was less than $29,000,000, that the roll had reached its maximum. To his prediction quoted above Representative Atkins, of Tennessee, who was in charge of the bill on the floor of the house, took exception as extravagant.

"Why, we reached the maximum two year ago," Mr. Atkins said. "We appropriated last year $500,000 less than the year previous and we appropriate this year a million less than the appropriation in the previous pension bill."

But Mr. Atkins and Mr. Garfield, accounted farsighted statesmen in their day and generation, were almost ludicrously in error on the pension question, for the disbursements by the United States to its soldiers of several wars have grown to a sum never dreamed of as possible in those days of the able men then in congress, many of whom had themselves participated in one of the conflicts. Since 1890 the pension bill has been in excess of $100,000,000 annually, and since 1908 has carried more than $150,000,000 a year. With the enactment of the Sherwood service pension measure the amount would jump to more than $225,000,000 a year, and what total will be when a law is passed placing state militia serving in the civil war on a pensionable basis—and this time is not far off, house leaders say—no one seems willng to predict.

The total payments for pensions by the government have already reached astounding figures. Up to the present $70,000,000 has been paid out on account of the Revolutionary war, $45,808,677 for the war of 1812, $43, 956,769 for the war with Mexico, $10,617,119 for Indian wars, $3,837,488,171 for the civil war, $30, 191,725 on account of the Spanish war and Philippine insurrection, $18,508,018 in service pensions for the regular army and $16,486,091 which is charged on the books of the treasury as unclassified." Taken all together the disbursement for war pensions by the goverment aggregates $4,073,056,570.—New York Sun.

TAFT TO FOLLOW SEN. LAFOLLETTE THROUGH OHIO

Washington, Dec. 29.—Announcement was made at the White House this afternoon that President Taft had decided to follow LaFollette on a three or four days' speechmaking trip through Ohio.

According to present plans the President expects to speak at Cleveland January 29, at Columbus on the 30th and at Akron on the 31st. Another date is also being considered.

No explanation was made at the White House of the motives which impelled the President to take the trip but it is known the decision was reached immediately after a call from Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for Governor at the last Ohio election.

The President today received reports from friends in Ohio regarding LaFollette's progress through the state. The decision of the President to start on a campaign speech-making tour in his home state was a complete surprise here. Despite the announcements of this determination to make the trip, Harding was insistent in declaring there was "really no sentiment back of LaFollette in Ohio." His invasion, Harding declared, "is doing the President great political good. There is nothing to it. Ohio is for Taft."

New Philadelphia, O., Dec. 29.—In spite of the recent wet victory, there will be a few arid spots through out the county under the Beal law. Following the lead of Uhrichsville which is going to vote under the Beal law, Shanesville has fallen in line. Petitions are to be circulated soon.

That this village will go dry under such an election seems to be a certainity for in the county local option election, Shanesville piled up a total of 56 dry votes against 28 wet counter. Enough signers can be procured in a short time it is thought.

HOW WHEAT COMBINE FAILED

Conditions in the Money Market Were Not Propitious.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—On cross-examination Albert H. Veeder in the trial of the 10 Chicago meat packers, described the collapse of the "billion dollar" merger of the packing interests planned by Armour, Swift, Morris and Cudahy in 1902.

He said the formation of the gigantic corporation was abandoned at the close of a conference held in New York between the promoters and Jacob H. Schiff, manager for Kuhn, Loeb & Company, in which plans for financing the project were discussed.

A loan of $90,000,000 was desired and later this was reduced to $60,000,000 and the capitalization reduced from close to the billion dollar mark to $525,000,000.

"We spoke of the money needed for the proposition and Mr. Schiff said conditions in the money market were not propitious," said Mr. Veeder. "He did not use the word panic, but when he got through he made me feel like going out in the street and selling everything I had. His talk so depressed the packers that the idea of the big merger was dropped. In a few months the fears of Mr. Schiff were realized and we had a panic."

LYNCH SEEKS BIG DAMAGES

Files Suit Against Directors of Manufacturers' Association.

New York, Jan. 29.—James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical union, brought a new suit against the directors of the National Association of Manufacturers for $100,000 damages because the defendants passed a resolution holding the typographical union officers responsible for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building.

A previous suit was dismissed on the ground that Lynch failed to show he had been injured, but in his present action filed he asserts that the resolution of the defendants implied that he was using the money of the union for the purpose of fostering crime and murder, and accordingly gave the impression that he had been a confirmed criminal for years and an enemy of law and order.

For The Business World

Brand New Alphabet That Is Simple and Saves Time.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—A brand new alphabet, to save time and afford simplicity, is the plan recommended by Professor Fred Newton Scott of the University of Michigan, who presented his scheme in an address before the Modern Language association, in session at the University of Chicago. Modern demands call for the change, especially in the business world, the professor declared.

The alphabet, said to have the approval of type manufacturers and typewriter houses, is intended to reduce the modern English alphabet by nine characters and do away with combinations which are cumbersome, wasteful and complicated and do not express clearly the thought of the speaker or writer.

The system resembles shorthand in one respect, yet the simplicity of the entire proposition is such that no one need devote a great deal of study to master its meaning.

Simple vowels are represented in the plan by a dash, while rounded vowels would be marked by a circle with the open vowels heavy and closed ones light.

GATES' AUNT PASSES AWAY

Millionaire On a Special Train That Makes a Remarkable Run.

Minneapolis, Dec. 29.—Leaving Minneapolis five minutes before midnight, Charles G. Gates, called by the death of his aunt, made the run to St. Charles, Ill., in a special train on the Chicago Great Western in 8 hours and 40 minutes. Mr. Gates directed the railway officials not to try to break time records, but to make the fastest run consistent with safety and that would permit a passenger to sleep.

At the Hotel Radishon, where he was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Fertig, with 24 guests in all, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Hopgood, parents of Mrs. Gates, a telegram was brought into the chateau room announcing the sudden death of Mrs. H. D. Angell, sister of Mrs. John W. Gates.

Mr. Gates got into immediate communication by telephone with his mother, who was in New York, and arranged that she should come west on the Twentieth Century Limited.

Is Mere Dynamite Thief.

Pittsburg, Dec. 29. — It developed that George Bridges, arrested at Monessen with 72 sticks of dynamite, is held on a charge of stealing dynamite from the Henderson Coal company of Webster. There is no charge against the man other than the old theft charge, and there is no justification for the widely published reports insinuating that he had sinister intentions upon the population of Monessen.

12 MEN CONTROL WEALTH

Seventy-five Per Cent of All Money Deposits In New York Banks.

New York, Dec. 29.—"Less than a dozen men in the city of New York control at least 75 per cent of all the deposits in the leading trust companies and national banks here and in their allied institutions all over the country," said Samuel Untermeyer in an address on the so-called money trust.

Mr. Untermeyer, who won fame as an exposer of high finance in Wall street, has been mentioned as chief inquisitor of a congressional committee to investigate the money trust.

The title of his address was "Is There a Money Trust?" He answered this question by saying that no definite union of the money powers exists, but there is a close and well defined "community of interest" among the men who dominate the financial destinies of our country and who wield fabulous powers over the fortunes of persons other than themselves through their control of corporation funds, which does just as well.

MONGOLIA IS BUFFER STATE

Russia Repeating Its Afghanistan Policy In China.

Tien Tsin, Dec. 29.—It is asserted by members of the suite of the Ambian (or governor) of Mongolia that Russian complicity at Urga, capital of Mongolia, is responsible for the virtual domination of Manchuria by the Japanese.

The charge is made in the same quarters that the Russian military consul at Urga has been pursuing the same policy in Mongolia as was formerly carried out in Afghanistan, with the purpose of making Mongolia a buffer state and preventing the Japanese from expanding beyond Mukden in Manchuria.

Lieutenant General Horvath, in command of Russian troops at Harbin, has repeatedly denied that Russia has ulterior aims in Mongolia, but admits that Russia needs a buffer state in that region in the same way as Afghanistan serves as a buffer state on the northwestern frontier of India.

Annual Union Missionary Meeting Held

About one hundred and fifty people, representing the missionary societies of the various churches in the city, gathered at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual union missionary meeting.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson, president of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church presided. The devoitonal service was conduct by Miss Alice Finlay who also gave a brief but interesting talk concerning her work as a missionary in Japan. Mrs. F. P. Thomas, Sr., accompanied by Mrs. Voorhees at the organ, rendered a beautiful vocal solo.

Miss Mary Gamerstsfelder, for several years a missionary in the interior of Africa made the addres of the afternoon. Miss Gamertsfelder told in an interesting way of the manner of life of the people among whom she has lived for years. These native Africans lived amolst like animals, but Miss Gamertsfelder told of the wonderful influence of the gospel on their manner of life.

Miss Gamertsfelder's talk was intensely interesting and in conclusion she gave her audience the opportunity of asking questions concerning her work and this brought out many more interesting facts.

The meeting was closed with an offering and music by the congregation and prayer by Mrs. F. N. Barnes. For many years the annual union missionary meeting has been an important event of the first week of the new year—the week of prayer, but the meeting was held earlier this year since Miss Gamertsfelder could not be secured next week. Miss Gamertsfelder is a Coshocton county woman and her home people take more than usual interest and pride in the wonderful work which she assists in doing in "darkest Africa."

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Park had as their dinner guests yesterday at their home in Roscoe, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Norris, the Misses Charity, and Ella Norris, Miss Anna Ebel of Cleveland, Mr. Sharon of Ft. Wayne, Ind, and Clarence and Earl Park of Roscoe.

Q.—Did God create all the vermin, pests, bacteria, disease germs, etc.?

Answer.—The Bible declares that all of God's works are perfect. Therefore we are forced to the conclusion that the evil things in the world such as mentioned in the question, as well as many others, must have been formed by some malevolent power or influence exercised by beings in opposition to the God of love and kindness and goodness. This thought is indicated in the Scriptures which state that Satan is "the god (ruler) of this present evil world," and that he has associated with him a host of fallen angels or demons whose delight it is to deceive and afflict mankind. From the time of Adam's disobedience down to the time when God, the Heavenly Father, shall again take charge of earth's affairs, the race has been under the dominion of the Evil One, and all are able to recognize his evil influences in the world in more or less degree. As God permitted Satan to usurp the earthly dominion with certain restrictions, we can understand why the weeds and thistles and the briars, as well as the insects, germs and pests have come into evidence and been so prolific. Nevertheless, the time is coming when all these evil conditions shall be removed, and then Satan himself, the author of these curses, will have no [illegible]

Couple Wed at 3:30 A.M.

Uhrichsville, O., Dec. 29.—The cold, gray dawn held no drawbacks for William C. Harden, well known Uhrichsville young man, and Miss Olive M. Zook, of East Liverpool, for they were married Christmas morning at 3:30 o'clock in the Dennison Episcopal church by Rev. W. G. Moffatt of this city.

The young couple did not have to get the pastor out of bed so this story differs from the usual early marriages. The pastor was waiting for them in the church with the lights dimmed. The hour was chosen so that pestiferous friends might be given the slip.

Mr. Harden is well known among the young people of this city and is employed as a draftsman in the Dennison shops.

Xmas Dance by Phi Sigs

Forbes Hall never looked more attractive than last evening in its gala dress for the Christmas dance given by the Phi Sigma Chi fraternity. The hall had been elaborately and tastefully decorated in the fraternity colors of black and gold. The east end of the hall was partially screened off with lattice work decorated with smilax. In this portion of the hall small tables were arranged and here the delicious course lunch was served at midnight. The excellent program of dance music was furnished by Wright's five pice orchestra of Columbus. The grand march was led by Miss Ethel Kuntz. One of the prettiest dances of the evening was the "incense waltz." Beautiful favors of filigree cologne bottles were given to the guests of the fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs C. D. Broock were the chaperones for the evening.

The list of those who enjoyed the affair includes Misses Nanna Sharpless of Warsaw, Helen Clark of Cambridge, Belle Gallin of Somerset, Florence Bradley of Columbus, Jessie Smith of Columbus, Hazel Johnson, Gertrude Brown, Joyce Lower, Cornelia Lambanson, Lenore Hay, Harriet Williams, Florence Adams, Ethel Kuntz, Mary Gamble, Minnie Harris, Katherine Kuntz, Flavilla Shipps, Georgia Ferrell of Canton Zola McGinnis, Ann Anderson, Nelle Hay, Edna Cantwell, Mary Selby, Margaret Agnew, Mrs. Prescott Gray, Wm. Himebaugh, Raymond Smith of Columbus, Irvine Anderson, Hugh Hay, Dan Meek, Fred Shipps, Floyd Adams, Wm. Lynde, jr., Fred Compton, Dent Lahm, Daye Compton, Russell Hay, Eugene Lynde, Raymie Curtis, Fred Cantwell, Jesse Ayers, John McGarriety, Prescott Gray, Walter Darling, Arthur Temple, Clifford Bell, Lee Williams and Alfred Magness.

Evening Party West Lafayette

George Wilson entertained last evening at his home in West Lafayette. The guests who enjoyed the evening in an unusually pleasant social way were Miss Tacey Ross, Miss Almeda Marx, Miss Wilma Cole, Miss Edith Long, Miss Ethel Long, Russell Powell, Ralph Wilcoxin, Rennison Beall, Ray Brown and the host.

The Welsh Language.

Mr. Ruskin was once asked if it would not be well for the Welsh language to die out and be replaced by the English. "God forbid!" he replied. "The Welsh language is the language of music. There is no genius about the English language. The French have got all the poetry and the Irish all the wit, and how the devil the English got Shakespeare I do not know."

ORIENTAL LIFE FOUND IRKSOME

American Girl Who Married an Egyptian Prince Returns.

New York, Dec. 29.—"Never marry an Oriental—it's a fatal mistake," said the beautiful Princess Hassan, who, before her marriage to a cousin of the Khedive of Egypt, was Miss Ola Humphrey of California.

After five years' absence from her native land, the princess arrived on the Olympia from her home in London, and she will remain a few days at the Knickerbocker before going to join her mother in Oakland, Cal.

The princess spoke feelingly and somewhat knowingly on the subject of marriage between members of the Oriental and Occidental nations, for her life as a member of the Khedive's immediate family was one that was far from romantic and happy.

"To begin with," she said, "an American girl is reared far too independently and too spoiled by her own countrymen to be dominated and effaced in the manner an Oriental expects his wife to be. You see, my meeting with Prince Hassan was so romantic and I was so overpowered with his great manner and his magnificence that I married him impulsively after two months' courtship."

Princess Hassan is of the opinion that American men make the best husbands.

The princess, whose face glowed with enthusiasm over her return "home" went on to tell of her plans and her other interests. "I won't say definitely what I am to do, but I may return to the stage. I have with me several plays on which I have an option, and during my stay here I am to meet some managers anxious to see me."

Balzac's Impecuniosity.

Of Balzac it is stated that whenever he was hard at work he went to roost "like the fowls," as he himself put it, at 7 in the evening. He was called at 1 in the morning and wrote till 8, then took another hour and a half of sleep, then after a light meal went to work again until 4 in the afternoon. Then he took a bath, saw a few friends, took perhaps a short walk and immediately after dinner went off to bed.

"I shall be compelled," he wrote, "to lead this nigger's life for a few months without stopping in order not to be swamped by those terrible bills that are due." And yet he was always hard up for money.

MT. VERNON TROUNCES LOCALS IN FAST GAME

The Coshocton high basket ball team lost a hard fought game to the Mt. Vernon five on the local floor Friday evening, the final score being 17 to 10. The game was not nearly as one sided as the score would indicate and the locals fought hard for every goal, the visitors winning in the last few minutes of play.

Better in First Half

During the first half the locals had slightly the better of the argument showing better form in both passing the ball and shooting baskets. In the second half, the Coshocton boys let up for only a short time, but this was long enough for the visitors to score the winning goals. Better team work was shown by the home boys throughout the game, but they were outclassed by the Mt. Vernon team on the basket throwing.

Donley Shines

Donley at right forward, showed the best form for the Coshocton boys, in both passing and shooting. Myser who suffered a strained tendon in his left leg in the game at Canal Dover, played at left forward, but on account of the injury was unable to play his usual fast game. Moore who was substituted for Ake in the second half showed excellent form in guarding, holding the principal point getter of the visitors' team without a goal during the time that he was in the game.

A Rough Game

Postle at center was the shining light for the Mt. Vernon boys, scoring nearly half of their points. Reeder at forward also showed fine form for the visitors.

The game was fast throughout, but very rough, and was marred by a number of discussions.

Following are the line-up and summary:

C.H.S.	Position	M.V.H.S.
Myser	lf	Sherman
Donley	rf	Reeder
Love	c	Postle
Tarney	rg	Siebold
Ake-Moore	lg	Sapp

Field Goals: Donley 2, Love 1, Postle 4, Reeder 3, Sherman 1. Foul goals, Donley 2, Myser 1, Reeder 1. Missed Fouls, Donley 2, Reeder 3, Siebold 1. Score end of first half Coshocton 8, Mt. Vernon 6. Referees, F. Myser of Coshocton, and Russell of Mt. Vernon Time of halves 15 and 20 minutes.

THEATRE

Alma Where Do You Live?

The name of Jean Briquet is a household word in Paris, the city which dearly loves him and his music, but in this country it is only recently that he has acquired any vogue. Like Franz Lehar of "The Merry Widow" fame he flashed across the country one of the most tuneful of waltes. It is called "Alma Where Do You Live?" and from it the German-French farce, which Joe Weber will produce for the first time in English at the Sixth Street Theatre soon takes its name.

Alma first became popular in New York when the piece was produced in German at the German Theatre under the management of Adolf Philipp. It proves so attractive that Joe Webner immedately secured the American rights to it. He had an English book and lyrics written by the American humorist, George V. Hobart to the haunting melodies of Briquet, whose entire original score of fourteen numbers will be heard here. Although the music is in every sense popular, it has not the fault of being so familiar as to be tiresome. The words "dainty" and "above the ordinary" were used by the New York critics and afford the best description of the delightful score.

Grahame Stock Co.

The Grahame Stock Co., now on its seventh year, and known in this territory as one of the best popular priced attractions on the road today will open a weeks engagement at the Sixth St. Theatre with the Holiday matinee next Monday afternoon for the New Years matinee the play will be "The Stepson" for New Years night the bill will be "Chinatown Charlie." Reserved seats for both the Holiday performances are on sale now at the Box office of the Sixth Street Theatre. The usual "Ladies Tickets night will be Tuesday evening.

The Girl And The Chaffeur

The United Production Company have within the last year staged some of our most pretentious productions. Their latest effort is known as "The Girl and The Chauffeur," a new ideal musical play by Arthur Nelson the writer of several well known successes. Enormous expense has been entailed for equnipment, using real motors, and a carload of scenery and effects. The same production which was seen in New York has been sent entour where it will play the principal cities. Charles Garfield, Zadora Zay, Frederick Brown, George Winters, Harry White, Mabel Carter, American Singing Four and a beauty chorus help to make this a Musical Play par excelence. This attraction will appear at the Sixth Street Theatre tonight.

FOUND DEAD BY MOTHER

Man Dead From Poison Prepared by Brother; Who Sought Death.

Philadelphia, Dec. 29.—William Wilt, 39, was found dead in his home here from poison which had been prepared by his brother, John, one year older, with suicidal intent.

John Wilt felt so good over having passed an examination to become a registered plumber that he started to celebrate the event. Afterward he became remorseful and on his way home purchased 15 cents worth of whisky and 10 cents worth of poison. He mixed the liquids and when he got home took a swallow and went to his room. Later his brother was found dead on the dining room floor by their mother.

John, suffering from poison, was rushed to a hospital, where, after he had partly recovered from the effects of the poison, he told what he had done.

ACCUSE INDIAN PRINCE

Prominent London Attorney Seeks a Divorce From His Wife.

London, Dec. 29.—Justice Deane in the divorce court has decided that Sayaji Row, the gaekwar of Baroda, is not subject to British courts because he is a reigning potentate. This decision was made in the suit of Statham versus Statham, which is an action begun by George W. Statham, an attorney, for divorce. He accuses the gaekwar, who has visited England and America frequently, of paying too much attention to Mrs. Statham, and he wanted $100,000 damages from the Indian prince, who said that he would pay no attention to any order an English court might make.

PEACE AND JUST GOVERNMENT

President of Chinese Republic Outlines His Policy.

Shanghai, Dec. 29.—Immediately following the receipt of word from Nanking that he had been elected president of the republic of China, Dr. Sun Yat Sen made the following statement, with the request that it be transmitted to his friends in the United States.

"I consider it my duty to accept the presidency. My policy will be to secure peace and a stable government by the promptest method possible. My single aim is to insure the peace and contentment of the millions of my fellow countrymen."

The news of Dr. Sen Yat Sen's election to the presidency by the delegates of the 19 provinces of China proper at their conference at Nanking, spread with extraordinary rapidity among the population.

Crowds made their way to the house in the French concession in which he has resided since his arrival here. When he appeared he was greeted with an euthusiastic svation.

The city shows evidence of great activity. Members of the provisional cabinet which was formed by Dr. Wu Ting Fang on Nov. 6, and delegates who were sent by both the imperialists and revolutionaries to the peace conference, which is now regarded as having lapsed, pass frequently along the streets on their way to President Sun Yat Sen's headquarters.

It is believed that President Sun Yat Sen will immediately demand the withdrawal of the so-called imperial troops from their strategical positions, in order to avoid the possibility of conflict with the troops of the republican government.

As soon as this has been effected, the armistice now existing will be ended and the Manchu troops will be ordered to lay down their arms or to enter the service of the republic.

As soon as military arrangements have been completed, negotiations will be opened on the subject of the pensions to be offered to the former princes and Manchu governors.

Goodwin May Marry Again.

New York, Dec. 29.—Rumors that Nat C. Goodwin, actor and mining promoter, is preparing to step into matrimony again have been temporarily set at rest by a statement from Mr. Goodwin himself. "I intend to try it again some time," he says, "but I'm going to allow myself at least another year of freedom first."
